Is being a child care provider right for me?

Being a child care provider is a time and energy consuming task. There are several questions you can ask yourself to help determine if you are the right person for the job.

Do I...

- want independence from the 9 to 5 daily routine?
- want to stay home and still earn a living?
- want to improve my standard of living?
- enjoy working with children?
- want to own my own business?
- want to fulfill a growing social need?
- want to know the latest information on child care?

If you're ready for the challenge, we can help. When you're ready to become a professional home child care provider, we'll be your partner on the road to success. We'll help match you with clients who are seeking child care. And you'll also receive monthly training skills. It's all part of our way to say thank you for being a positive influence in a child's life.

What are other people saying about working with Child Care Resource & Referral?

"The reward of child care is you can teach the children in the time that you have them during the day. In eight and nine hours a day, you can have a big impact on their learning and on their lives."

"CCR&R has helped me tremendously. I love their training sessions and they're really just a good support unit for you. I did daycare before and was not registered with CCR&R and I am now and glad I am. It's such a big difference."

Juli Miller
Hampton
Home Child Care Provider

"CCR&R has given me a lot of good information to use and to have for future reference. And they're always there to answer any questions. I'm using the CCR&R food and record keeping programs. The record keeping program has helped me be more organized."

Lisa Kanagy
Grundy Center
Home Child Care Provider

"CCR&R is a one-stop resource for all the information that you need. If they don't know it or have it, they can tell you where to get it. They've given me a couple of grants, helped me become an emergency child care provider, and get into the food program. I've received a lot of calls because of them referring me. Actually, I would feel lost without the information that they've given me."

Lisa Negen
Clarksville
Home Child Care Provider

"Most people that choose child care or early childhood education as a profession, do not do so for monetary reasons but exhibit a genuine interest in children and want to have a direct impact on a child's life."

"CCR&R is a valuable asset to child care providers. They offer many opportunities for further education and support these financially. Many childcare centers are non-profit organizations that depend on other sources. Their programs are enhanced and quality improves with further educational opportunities provided by CCR&R."
